

PO Box 161 Westport, CT06881

Your Organization Enforces Whistleblower Policy

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Your Organization

{phone}

{email}

Joe Gagliardi

(203) 221-1742

mail to: joe@telesentry.org

(Your Organization) Enforces Whistleblower Policy to Combat Fraud and Insure Donor Confidence Using Telesentry Hotline

CITY, State, & FAIRFIELD, Conn., Feb. XX, 2009 – (Your Organization), a respected non-profit organization, has taken a pro-active stance to combat the risk of fraud and the industry-wide erosion of donor confidence by enforcing a 24-7 Whistle Blower Hotline with anonymous access for all employees, vendors and consultants.

"It is essential to stop fraud at all levels of the non-profit industry." said (Spokesperson for Organization). "We are offering a visible assurance of our integrity by establishing a reputable system of reporting any suspicious activities and acts of wrong-doing."

The toll-free number. 1-800-XXX-XXXX. is published on the (Name of Non-Profit) website and has been distributed via email to all employees and vendors. Anyone can speak to a live operator anonymously to report knowledge or suspicion of questionable behavior.

"The Telesentry Whistle Blower Hotline number for non-profit organizations is easy to use and instantly offers a safe, anonymous method to report fraud." explained Joe Gagliardi, President of Telesentry. "Non-profit organizations are able to follow-up with a free assessment by a forensic accountant of the in-take call to review the issues and be advised on what steps to take."

Telesentry, a trusted name in security, currently supplies hundreds of thousands of employees, stockholders and vendors of publicly traded companies a Sarbanes-Oxley (SOX) compliant anonymous reporting hotline. Non-profit organizations are in the headlines daily with news of financial distress and scandal and the new internal fraud reporting requirements on the 2008 IRS tax forms. Public confidence has been jeopardized in the entire industry. Organizations like (Name of Non-Profit) are leading the efforts to provide transparency and restore peace of mind.